

LEOPARD (Panthera Pardus)

Habitat: At 232,000 square miles, the vast, desolate Kalahari Desert in central Africa is about 85 percent the size of Texas! It's as hot as Texas, too, with temperatures that reach a scorching 120 degrees in summer!

Size: Up to 5¹/₂' long. Up to 24" tall. That's about the height of an adult Labrador Retriever.

Prey: Jackals, antelope, ostrich, mice.

Did You Know? Kalahari leopards are world-class climbers. They hide future meals in trees to keep them from scavengers and other competitors. The Kalahari Leopard is called the "Prince of Darkness" thanks to night vision that's six times stronger than a human's.
